1. Cut losses quickly; let profits run.

2. The most reliable way to outperform the average investor is to simply own the entire market and wait.

3. Fear and greed are the tides; learn to sail them, not be swept away.

4. The markets perception of risk is often inversely proportional to the actual price of risk.

5. Risk management is not about avoiding losses but about controlling them so you can survive to capitalize on future opportunities.

6. Time in the market beats timing the market.

7. Emotions are a fog that obscures the path of reason.

8. Compound growth rewards consistency in kindness, knowledge, and habits, turning small daily gains into an extraordinary life.

9. Complexity feeds the illusion of control, while simplicity enforces the discipline the market rewards.

10. Patience harvests the panic of the impatient.
