- 1. Trade the trend until it bends.

2. The most reliable way to outperform the average investor is to simply own the entire market and wait.

3. Fear and greed are the twin tides that drown reason, so anchor your decisions in discipline, not emotion.

4. The markets perception of an assets value is often more important than its intrinsic value.

5. Risk management is not about avoiding losses but about controlling them so you can survive to capitalize on future opportunities.

6. Patience is the silent compound interest of investing.

7. Emotions are a fog that obscures the map of reason.

8. Compound growth rewards consistency in kindness, knowledge, and habits, turning small daily gains into an extraordinary life.

9. Complexity breeds overconfidence and costly mistakes, while simplicity fosters discipline and captures market returns.

10. Patience harvests the panic of the impatient.
